

Ode to a Feeling I Can't Describe

Nichole Chamberlain

1998-2022

It's hard to put into words how I feel
How do you describe something
That melts you from the inside out
And fills you with the light of the sun?
There is no one word that can do this justice
It's like finally coming home
After wandering in a blizzard, numb and lost
When I see your smiling face
Even this cannot ever be sufficient
Because you have lifted me from this mortal plane
And placed me up among the stars
Where only the gods can feel like this
When I remember how you plucked me,
A weed in a field of roses,
And decided to put me in the prettiest vase
I am filled with a feeling I can't seem to describe